To Shop-keepers and the Public in general.

F. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Terebanus Sheep Salve

The great reputation these specifics have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary success in all cases where they have been applied, has induced the proprietor to introduce them in this market on account of the immense sheep farming interest of the country. To enable sheep owners to obviate in future the enormous losses they sustain yearly, not only in the deterioration of the Sheep, but also, as frequently happens, the loss of the sheep itself. It is a powerful antiseptic, and in only asks a fair trial, feeling confident of the result. The following is a list of some of the uses to which these antiseptics may be applied—

In Sheep—To cure maggots foot rot, scab, lice, tick.

In Horses—Canker in the feet, grease, quitter, all dangerous wounds or cuts &c, cracked heels, mange, &c.

Cows; distemper, an full diseases of the heels.

For wounds or bruises resulting from accident and for all general Veterinary purposes these remedies are sure. They are to be found to be remarkably useful in the Hospitals in England for curing Cancer. Perfectly safe also used for preserving hides, skins and leather from all vermin and insects, the parcels already sent with it in this city and Australia have merited the approval of all parties using England who report them to be perfectly successful. The former made from the hides is also declared to be superior in every respect.

A FOREIGN LOAN.

After all the noise and trouble it seems that our colleagues are clamoring round to our views on the currency question. A loan, and nothing but a loan, is the way the wind blows now—only a few days ago it was mere foreigners who dreamt of such a thing, having too much love of their own country. Then our colleagues argued that if the paper money was to fore, deemed, let it be effected by the lines, camps, and home sash, but on no account allow foreign capital to come in. The Jews in Frankfort on-Maine, we hear, offer to lend us any sums at a low rate of interest, and without any shaving on the bonds. The capitalists of London, according to the Lisbon correspondent, are also anxious to lend Buenos Ayres their surplus cash; in fact if we are to believe these colleagues of ours, the loan will be made without almost any London at all—only just a simple promise to pay when convenient. We have no doubt that a loan can be effected on fair terms, but we caution our readers against believing the nonsense which these inflated papers publish. Only by half a pocket is received at Liverpool. Lombard street gentleman, who states: "The Buenos Ayres Government are doing all they can to stability themselves in the eyes of the English public, as they will find out when too late."

It is clear therefore that the London correspondents of the Times and Standard are not correct, and we will leave it to our readers to say which is more reliable.

We do not seek to take one particle from the credit of Buenos Ayres, but feel bound to contradict the assertion that all Europe is looking after Buenos Ayres to lend her money.

Not one brass farthing will be lent to Buenos Ayres to redeem the currency, either by Germans or English men, until the connection between the Bank and the Government is severed. Leaders invariably dictate their own terms, and these are the conditions required by English capitalists.

Our countrymen have a great regard for Buenos Ayres, owing to the daily increase of business transactions. The credit of Buenos Ayres stands in London, thanks to the unflinching honor of Don Norberto Riccius, why other Ministers do not why Patricio known in London.

But our friends at home see things going on which do not much please them. Let us therefore premise the plain truth. The Force capitulation from this city, although praised by the "Tribune" and "National," is not looked in the same light in London, and it is to this circumstance which our correspondent refers. If we want to make sacrifices we must make them, reductions at home, discontentment invasions, regenerations, and all such inju ries to Continental National Subscription Secretary, we regret to say, exports.

THE SUBSIDIES.

We doubt if there can be a more forcible proof of the utter imbecility of the present Federal system than the fact that the President is obliged to demand of Congress an increase of $600,000 for subsidies to the press.

It may be that according to the Constitution the National Government is obliged to support all these petty political organizations; but if such is the case the sooner the Constitution is revised and amended, the better. To our minds it appears monstrous that the country should be put to such extravagant expense, merely for the purpose of sustaining Governments which are unable to preserve peace in the countries which they rule, and altogether unnecessary for the welfare or prosperity of the republic.

If a concert ostimed were made of the number of public servants of the republic, we do not hesitate to say that it would be found nearly three fourths of the whole native population. Every one has one way or another employed to govern the remaining one-fourth and foreigners. In some of the interior provinces the Governor, Minister, Secretary, Senator, Magistrates and policemen represent the whole adult native population of the place. It is not to be wondered, therefore that every one is not entirely destitute of any staple product should be obliged to beg of the President a stipend sufficient to live both cash and meat. But it is astonishing that such a system is allowed to be carried on when experience has proved its expensive folly.

We regard it as one of the most necessary reforms, the abolition of some, if though of those above-named, would be a saving to the Exchequer and a benefit to the country at large.

If those provinces want to have theirown Governments, let them find out the means to supp ot them. Let them give up revolutions, regenerations, &c.; let them sow cotton, tobacco, indigo, &c. When they build up a staple industry, then give them their own Governments: but in the meantime, and until this desirable end be accomplished, they will be governed as the territories of the United States, the President sending a proper man to rule the country and a number of troops.

This is what we want in the Argentine Republic Now that the question of subsidies has been brought before the house, we hope some member will have the courage and honesty to move an amendment of the Constitution, and the abolition of all Government aid over their existence to subsidies from the nation's treasury.

PHARMACEUTICAL MAGAZINE

This month's number reflects much credit on the editors, among whom our friend Mr. Charles Murray is prominent, his article on Decimal Solution being the opening chapter we agree with him that it is a benefit, but hope our city druggists will not make such a failure, as the now Oriental currency, for a trifling mistake or confusion in Calculation might prove fatal. Dr. Albarellos contributes Historical Notes of the Buenos Ayrean school of Medicine; we see it was established A. D. 1822. and among its first members Dr. Argerich appears as a hon. Professor and Andrew Dick. Florical, geological and zoological studies of La Plata were to form one of its objects, but, we regret to think, little has been given to the world in that line. Three professors were named for the Academy at an annual salary of 1,000 dollars each, and midwives were required to pass examination, this part of the profession being formerly held by ignorant black women.

Mr. Murray gives a long dissertation about preparing tinctures of Hella-bora, Opium &c. which are perfectly uninteresting to the generality of readers, but very useful not to that way. He alludes to his practice in Buenos Ayres of physicians obliging their patients to deal with certain apothecaries, for the reason that their system is peculiar to Buenos Ayres, but the idea is, that it springs from a motive of per-centage, mutually agreed on.

Mr. Hanbury, corresponding member of the Academy, has to open Chinese pharmacy, which is droll enough, as the Celestial apothecaries use, very often, feces of chinoceros teeth, and other articles of the same kind for phant-teeth, under the name "Dentes Draconis" also ante-d'avian lobsters claws, under the name of phant-teeth epidermis, and abundantly found at Kwangsi. This must be cancelling to Dr. Hanbuister, who is member of the association for the Adulteration of Salads excavations to practical use.

A sovereign remedy for dyspepsia is prescribed by Mr Murray, being a decoction of the bowels of a sheep, which he says, has been successfully tried by Drs Rawson, Lydie, Leeson, &c. but believe it was plagiarized every day, after dinner. We prefer sherry.

Mr Barnes has a crushing review of English apothecaries, stating that three fourths of them are rank quacks. We have such little shame as to put midwifery advertisements over their doors, uniting both occupations. He adds that street-Doctors, with their pills, ointments and tabled, announce Wonderful Pills and Elixirs of Health, to the prejudice of real drugs; while some practitioners boast Miraculous Balms, Medicines of Fecundity, &c. "All this shows, he says, that English chemists are ignorant charlatans and pretencing knaves, only fit to sell pills and stinking plaster the proper Yankee apothecaries are the best in Creation.

An extract from the "Gazette Medicale" relates a strange case of hydrophobia. A medical student made a pair stricture of strychnine, and soon after 12 grains, with a view to destroy himself; but finding it of slow effect, tried 10 grains of Morphine dissolved in essence of bitter almonds, and carried his fell work with "certainty." Two days afterwards he was called in, who found the youth insensible, but by dint of repeated vomiting he was brought in two days quite recovered. It was known, moreover, that the opium had acted as an antidote to the strychnine, so that by way he attempted suicide twice the insane men

The society consists of 41 members, 21 honorary do. 13 patrons, and 10 foreign do. appointed The chief officers are—President Don Luis Vice, Don Pedro Panano; Secretary, Mr Charles Murray; Treasurer, Signor Giovanni Gherra. The secretary has recently resorted to the Society's Library 16 volumes on scientific subjects, and 6 specimens of zoology, &c. The Standard, let them be members are not so lost as drug-rackers—to forget that universal drug—money; and the account proceeds a flattering picture of $61,270 cash in hand. In this manner they will never compound with their creditors, but be able until this desirable end be accomplished. If they will be governed as the territories of the United States, the President sending a proper man to rule the country and a number of troops.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There is but little news stirring. The filibuster correspondents begin to spread doubts and suspicions concerning Flores, who is almost lost, in their estimation, now that Moreno has concentrated his forces, and Medina placed guards on the various passes of Rio Negro.

It is said that the passengers whose luggage arrived per 'Libertad,' were not arrested but had gone ashore under the impression all would be let out until on Monday night owing to the weather.

We have received a communication containing two questions, which, possibly, some of our readers may be able to answer. What does Sina-sina signify in English, and where may the seed be obtained?

Messrs Bordeaux and Co. advise that Mendoza is the locator that they have sunk the 2 resian bore, Calle Piedad, to a depth of 338 yards: great hopes are entertained, but as yet no sign of water. Meantime, they have despatched a boring to Tuyu, to try it on that locality.

The Sta Fé Legislature has conceded the alternation asked for by Messrs. Werner, in their colonisation scheme. We understand the first batch of German colonists may be expected about the New Year.

Mr. Hinchcliff's new book is all the talk of the town. Several passages, by request, were supplied with copies for the press, were supplied with copies for the press, who are told to have a high, conversational manner, but critics assert it is rather more entertaining than instructive. Messrs Mackern expect to have it shortly and we augur a rapid sale.

It is remarkable that Buenos Ayrean Bonds are not quoted in the late numbers of the Times. At the middle of July they were 3 per cent discount.

The auction of the late Mr. Delyfer's future came off on Tuesday, and was well attended: prices, however, were not high. A good piano fetched only $2,200, and a mahogany book-case $250, while some valuable books were knocked down at prices varying from $47 to $2.

Touching the introduction of Tractionengines for traffic in the upper provinces, we asked a gentleman of considerable experience, well acquainted with the Pampas, and he assures us they would be perfectly useless, adding, that it would be as cheap to prolong Mr. Wheelwright's enterprise as to make roads and bridges suitable for such locomotives.

We understand the Western Railway will be opened to Luxan by May 25th, 1864. Only three miles of re-laying are now completed, so that we have to report, it is proposed to make a station at that point. A splendid state carriage for the Government is shortly expected from the United States.

The Cosmopolite has brought 16000lbs of Tyes for this office, but our papermakers have forgotten to ship 300 reams, so that many of our subscribers have papers this size, or same as the "Tribune" will please send us samples, with rates of prices.

President Mitre's furniture was on the move yesterday, and gave rise to numerous rumors. Some said he was about to fix his quarters in Quilmes; others that Mr. Barnard had raised his rent, and he intended moving out to Barracas for the summer.

THE ROSARIO MAILS.

INVASION OF INDIANS.

We have the "Paraco carril" list in. Five criminals had escaped from prison in Rosario, by making a hole in the roof. The officer on guard is under arrest, although it seems the building is more than faithfully guarded, having a strong body of troops. Regarding private property, these confirm the depredations to a convoy of supplies by the National Government, and many of the interior. They carried off 180 bales of soldier's clothing, leaving the empty wrappers, as unexpectedly. The Liberal charges Paraco and Rosario with great atrocities at the battle of Las Playas: it states that Pavon is now in San Isla with a considerable force. The Paraguayan volunteers arrived at Paraná; also Dr. Alcaveda's secretary, which was interred on the 26th ult. Chapaco is said to be installing for the Oriental service, in the neighbourhood.

CHASCOMUS.

26th August 1862.

This dis...ict is at present in so b... a condition that if things go on so, we shall be ruined. The drought is terrific, pasture there is none, and the sheep, our only resources, are dying off. I believe there is no other part of the country so sadly visited: honest cattle have completely disappeared, and it is a wonder to see a man mounted on a horse able to travel six leagues in the day. All the cattle herds are roost, and there is not to be had a fat wether. In the villages people have to eat meat formerly given to dogs: and this year's lot of carobas, while the flesh of a cajon fetches $40. Butchers are making money, because even the poor people must eat flesh.

God grant it may rain, for if summer sets in soon, we shall be undone. A little grass sprouted after the rains in the beginning of August, but the heavy frost has almost destroyed it.

I see you make frequent mention of cattle robberies, but I am glad to say little from the Justices who serve without pay, and being only a year in office, seek to make few enemies. Our Gaol has been repaired but not yet. But the Government refused to appoint another, as that gentleman cannot spare his time in the Juzgado, is not among the friends of the present incumbents about the acting judge, who is changed every day, for no one likes the post.

All roads leading to the new Church for the Chascomus Railway, which will be an immense benefit, and must pass on. Many stores before had agencies of Rosario, but now they have all closed, should purchase a plot to build a chapel, which is badly wanted, and for which the first subscriber will be, with great pleasure.

YOUR CORRESPONDENT.

DOST MAHOMMED.

A communication from Teheran of June says:—

The news of old Dost Mahommed's death before will, doubtless, have already reached you. He has been succeeded by his son Shere Ali Khan, the favorite prince of Afghanistan, and Bernakid of the besieging army, who, the last accounts from Candahar, had not withdrawn under the title of "Shah Ghir Ali Khan." The new Dost is about thirty years of age, and is said to be full of energy and courage and vigour of character. Though I have formed him the hereditary prince of Afghanistan, he has not received from me the regular firman, according to the customary law of succession. This would be sent after the death of the late Dost Mahomet Akbar Khan, who was the eldest son of the old Dost. As the succession is disputed, it will be a long time before I can send the firman. It will not, however, affect the question in the least, as I have already recognized him as the rightful heir, and he expects no more. It is better for free men to make their choice and deal with any resistance to his rights which may arise itself.

Lord Elgin at Simla.—A young fir and lady—still living—had arrived with a party of friends at one of the most retired stations in the hills of the Himalayas for her part, an apartment on the first floor, furnished with unusual magnificence for that locality, having also the luxury of a bath-room. Soon after the arrival she was swept in slumber, contemplating by the faint glimmer of her night lamp, the costly objects around her. Suddenly, the sliding doors opposite her bed, which she had secured, were open, and there appeared in the full light of day, in the midst of the doors entered a handsome young man, in the undress uniform of a staff officer, having his hair dressed in the peculiar mode of the time. Taking a card from his hand, he presented it to the lady, who, in her night dress, was sitting up in bed, and then, with a profound bow, left the room, and, then, with him the card—a plain one, with the name written in pencil—was "Elgin." Now, Lord Elgin was Governor-General of India, and was at the time on a visit to the hills. The young lady had fallen back, and lay in a kind of cataleptic trance, and thus remained fully conscious of all that transpired around her, but unable to move her tongue or hand until some check on the following morning, at which hour her maid, in obedience to orders, knocked at the door. Finding that no reply was given, she made several raps, and entered the room, when she found her mistress insensible, and regarded her prostrate. Still no answer—and again, after a little consultation, the poor young lady was delivered over for another period to her agonised thoughts. At length she recovered, and, at the same moment, the power of speech and movement returned. She shrieked out to the attendants that a man had just blessed their beloved mistress, and, still hysterically, fell into a swoon. On receiving nothing beyond the above, it was the excitement consequent upon some terrible dream. She was, therefore, placed in another apartment, and it was not at all difficult persuaded that the nocturnal visitor was a delusion—but no female's dream. The course of the day brought the local inspector-general on interview with a gentleman of the party, and declared that as soon as arrangements re-assented had been made during the next few days, using for the purpose a plain unassuming dress, which would not attract the attention mentioned. The lady and the younger part of the family of Morgan for identification, and the gentleman, with his wife, over both the head of the unfortunate young man exhibited the Time coup and the wound in the forehead, as in the vision.

MARSHAL FOREY.

Was born in Paris on the 10th of January, 1804. He entered the Military School of St. Cyr in 1822. He took part in the expedition to Morea in 1828, and served with distinction in Africa until the 4th of November, 1841 when he returned to France with the rank of Colonel. He made Commander of the Brigade in 1848, and General of Division on the 22nd of December, 1852. Having been appointed to the command of the Reserve of the army of the East, he was charged with the direction of the attacks of the left before Sebastopol until April 1855. He commanded the Corps d'armee sent to France. Being afterwards appointed to the command of a division of the Army of Italy he gained the battle of Montebello on the 20th of May, 1859, and greatly distinguished himself throughout the campaign. The Emperor, as a reward for his gallantry and services, made him Grand Cross of the Legion of honor, and finally named him a Senator by decree of the 16th of August, 1859 —"Times."

SURRENDER OF VICKSBURG

The "World" contains the following account of the surrender of Vicksburg: "At eight in the morning of the 3rd the Confederate Gen. Bowen and Colonel Montgomery, bearers of a communication from Gen. Pemberton, were led blindfolded into the Federal lines" General Pemberton's letter said:—Although I feel confident of my ability to defend your army indefinitely, in order to stop the further effusion of blood I propose that you appoint three commissioners to meet three on my behalf to arrange such terms as may have reference to the result." General Grant replied, "The appointment of commissioners is unnecessary. With white flags I can only accept the needless effusion of blood, the only terms I can entertain are those of unconditional surrender. At the same time, I am willing and have been willing to testify to the distinguished gallantry with which the defence has been conducted." In the afternoon Generals Grant and Pemberton met between the lines, and after an hour's consultation settled the terms of surrender. General Pemberton signed the articles, and at 10 o'clock the city of Vicksburg and form shed with rations to carry them to their lines. In view of the bravery they had displayed and of the severity of the siege, General Grant conceited. The number of prisoners and wounded is said to be 18,000, of whom 12,000 are in fighting condition. The rebels also surrendered the surrender of the garrison was the evacuation of supplies and munitions of war, including the entire armament of the fortifications.

MAIZENA.

This new preparation of Indian corn is manufactured by the "New Cove Company" of New York, from the white maize selected in the middle and Southern States of America, the importance of the soil and climate of those localities giving it is said, the grain a peculiar richness and maturity.

In the American Court we were struck during the Exhibition with this food and its very without a fault, which were spoken of in the "Times" report as an article of surprisingly easy digestion, and of great recommendation of Maizena purity. It requires no blanching or cleansing, but in its natural state, is converted into the most delicate and necessary nutriment by artificial Blanching. Hence its exquisite softness whiteness and strength are not attained by any other process.

Maizena is equally easy by the most delicate stomach, and is equally nutritious to which it is applicable. It gives unlimited scope to the culinary imagination to vary the delicacies of breakfast, lunch, dinner, supper, puddings, pies, and cakes.

Or with tea, chocolate, coffee and on various kinds of soups; and when properly prepared makes an excellent substitute for cream. As a diet for children and invalids it is peculiarly suited, it is unequalled. Added to its comparative for transportation and great strength (a little going a long way), the Maizena possesses another noteworthy peculiarity, particularly interesting to travellers and residents in damp changeable, or hot climates, viz., it will perfectly retain its admirable qualities for years in any quarter of the world. We can recommend it from our own actual experience.

MISCELLANEOUS.

We (Dublin Evening Mail) understand that the late Duke of Hamilton insured his life for £100,000 about a week before he lately left this country for Paris. The first part of the loan will be upon the Scottish estates.

Prince Arthur will go, it is said, to Christ Church, Oxford, in October, 1864, to commence his University studies, at the express desire of her Majesty.

A fifth French employee of the Mint has fled, and will have been absconded two months' pay and the day's travelling expenses home.

Mahmet Djemil Bey, it is said, have applied for authorisation to resume his public exercises as representative, but he has been refused for nonconduct of his age—eighty-six.

TO THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

It is rumoured that about 200 young men at Howe Hospital Nurses in a state of nudity. We would draw the attention of the National Government to this important intelligence, and hope that President Mitre will have measures taken to completely stop this flagrant breach of neutrality.

ON CHANGE.

Sept. 9.

On Change to-day business was very dull in the early part of the day. Although the Bolsa opened at eleven, nothing was done before 12 o'clock—the hour being very firm all day! Gold opened at 427, and after some little excitement in driving them down to 426, but at half-past one they looked up, and closed firm at 427 ½.

No steamer having arrived since advices of Montevideo or the Uruguay, people have no new version of the Flores affair to talk of. All doubts as to the fate of the unfortunate young Uruguian seem to be dispelled, in fact council over into the Rapin Oriental, and the Flores affair will burst, and 1000 pesos along with them, pesos of course.

The annoying anxiety of foreign creditors to get their bills for Public Works was discussed, but the news was little better in the London and clubrooms than on Change. Merchants state their opinion that the Government in Buenos Ayres know the full value of the Tribune and National statements. An English gentleman fully conversant with the matter, and recently arrived, states that Brazil and Montevideo is in a worse state than Ministry, Flores put down, and the Bank made entirely independent of Government influence. Business was looked for next by the English market with any more of their Bonds.

Wheat beef has become saleable on great demand. We heard to-day of 17 be being offered for a lot and refused, which is considered very good price. Wheat sold in lastly worth 30,000 quintals. Freights are also with an upward tendency, and shipping active.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
Diseases of the Head and Heart.

No misapplication can result if the printed directions are attended to, as they invariably adhere to the seat of the affliction without deranging those organs which are already acting healthily.
